

Notice of Ecclesiastical Trust Immunity from Statutory Jurisdiction

Let this notice stand as irrefutable truth that the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Living Trust of jonathan-daniel: clements is not subject to any statutory, commercial, maritime, or administrative jurisdiction.

All instruments, proceedings, and attempts to assert authority over this trust without ecclesiastical consent are hereby rebutted and considered unlawful trespass.

The trust operates solely under:

- Divine Law
- Ecclesiastical Law
- Natural Law

Any engagement outside this framework shall be null and void.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.

Affidavit of Ecclesiastical Right to Assembly and Worship

I, jonathan-daniel: clements, do hereby affirm the unalienable right to assemble, congregate, and worship according to divine instruction and conscience. This right is held in trust and protected under ecclesiastical law.

This affidavit serves to declare:

- The trust may host, build, and operate places of worship and sanctuary
- The trust shall not require registration, licensing, or zoning permissions to assemble
- The trust may gather for spiritual purposes without limitation or surveillance

Any infringement upon this right is a breach of divine order and sacred duty.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.

Declaration of Ecclesiastical Right to Publish and Communicate

This declaration affirms the sacred right to write, speak, publish, teach, and transmit knowledge under the authority of the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Living Trust.

I, jonathan-daniel: clements, retain and exercise the full right to:

- Disseminate sacred and lawful knowledge
- Publish records, declarations, and rebuttals
- Communicate across all mediums free from censorship

This right is not granted by man or license, but by the Creator, and is hereby protected in perpetuity.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.
